OF
THE KINGDOM

Dear Diary,

Commencement Day is almost upon us.
Who would have suspected that we would be reluctant to leave our Alma Mater?

By the maple trees surrounded, and a lawn that's always green, stands our dear Otego High School, place of many a pleasant scene. With the hills and trees behind it, 'mong the buildings of the town—
Is it not a pretty picture of the Orange and the BROWN?
Through the next three years of high school—
In the rooms we love so well, We gain a

Dear Diary, CLASS WILL

We, the class of 1951, being of sound and disposing mind and memory, do make, publish and declare this our last will and testament.

To the Board of Education:

We leave our heartfelt appreciation. We realize that you, as members of the Board, have spent much time and trouble in helping us get our education. So that you may know your effort has been worthwhile, we hope to do our very best to make you proud of us in the future.

To the Faculty:

We leave our extraordinary intelligence. We know it will be needed in future classes.

Herman Carringer-leaves his guitar to Melvin Rolph and his ability to study to Billy Haggerty.

Jeannette Clark-leaves her excellent science marks to Betty Bump.

Marshall Frasier-leaves his unofficial harem to any one who can keep track of it.

Robert Frasier-leaves his West Oneonta interest to Leroy Perkins.

Neva Gardner-leaves her excellent typing marks to anyone who wants to work for them.

Lynn Gillingham-leaves his right to go with the ministers daughter to Roland Quimet.

Audrey Goble-leaves her flirting ability to Ruth Boyd. She also leaves to Sonja Thorsland her interest in Goodyear Lake and Morris.

Marie Haggerty-leaves her abilities as yearbook editor to Lyle Norton and her rights as class pest to Kieth Cox.

Marie Hilfiger-leaves her height to Elaine Miller.

Esther Horton-leaves her position as a cheerleader to Dawn Harvey.

Patricia Johnson-leaves her conservative manner of dress to Lois Yager.

Robert Lasher-leaves his height to Jack Reed.

Claude Murwin-leaves his '35 ford convertible to Clyde Norton and his collection of "Shirley's" to anyone else who likes the name.

Richard O'Hara-leaves his "dead pan" expression to Shirley Burnside.

Betty Oles-leaves her quick temper to Janice Fuller.

Alma Ottzen-leaves her right to call Mrs. Reeves and Mrs. Davidson "sister" to anyone who can get away with it.

Gene Quimet-leaves his basketball abilities to Bill Coote and his 3d base glove to David Ferris.

Shirley Sabedra-leaves her bad temper to Joyce Barker and her right to talk back to Mr. Bonner to anyone who thinks they can do as good a job.

John Schreiber-leaves his ability to play football to Francis Sabedra.

Betty Shaver-leaves her naturally curly hair to Marie Kruger.

John Short-leaves his bicycle to Peter Holden and hopes that it will help slim him down a little.

Joyce Shultis-leaves her art ability to Ann Haggerty.

June Simmons-leaves her speed in typing to Pat Barwood.

Anne Stilson-leaves her co-operative spirit to Mary Shultis, also her nickname "duff" to the Burnside twins.

Louie Trask-leaves his blonde curly hair to Elinor Vroman and his Wellsbridge girls to Andrew Short.

Evelyn Turner-leaves her divine figure to Guila Palmater and her disposition to Grace Jones.

Mr. Bonner-leaves his receding hair line to Mr. Bensink.

Mrs. Reeves-leaves her data on "how to catch a man" to Miss O'Brien.

To the Juniors-the senior year full of fun.

To the Sophomores-the ability to make money.

To the Freshman-the wisdom they will gain within the next few years.

CLASS HISTORY the following

On September 5, 1939, Joyce Beers, Jeannette Clark, Betty Shaver, Bob Frasier, Lynn Gillingham, Shirley Krause, Dick Murwin, Herman Carringer, Dick O'Hara, Gene Ouimet, Audrey Goble, and Evelyn Turner started school at dear old O.C.S. The second grade is memorable for Jeannette; one day about twenty boys lined up on the playground and little Jennie went down the line, kissing everyone. We also presented a marionette show, entitled "Little Black Sambo." The puppets were made and operated by the members of the class. John Short joined us that year. In the third our projects included: a little store, in which we learned to spend money and a post-office, in which we learned how the mail works. We also did our part for the war by knitting afghans. Bernadine Engel joined us in the third grade. Marie Haggerty, Shirley Sabedra, Anne Stilson, Louie Trask, and Marshall Frasier joined us in the fourth year. In art class while we were studying Egypt we made a little scene of Egypt and placed it in the corner of our room. In the fifth grade the girls dressed dolls in costumes of various foreign countries; while the boys made model airplanes. We also constructed a geographical map of Egypt, made from salt, sawdust, flour and water. John Schreiber came to us in the sixth grade. The next year we faced with dread and hope. We hated the thoughts of initiation and our fears were well founded. Worms, burlap bags, burnt cork, braids, electric shocks, and the ever present paddles. We breathed a sigh of relief when it was over. At the end of the eighth grade, we made a trip to the state capitol. We went to the W.G.Y. radio station and Howe Caverns. Everybody had a good time, especially when the lights were turned off in the Caverns: and on the trip coming home. Neva Gardner, joined us in the seventh grade. Robert Lasher, June Simmons, Marie Hilfiger, Evelyn Hovey, and Pat Johnson joined us in the eighth grade. Miss O'Brien and Miss Hopkins were our class advisors during the ninth and tenth grades. The big event of the ninth grade was our first dance. The decorations consisted of lavender and yellow crepe paper streamers with a wishing well (to place your pennies in) and a wheel barrow full of lilacs decorated in accordance with the color scheme. During our Sophomore year we put on a one act play with various members of the class taking part. Our dance was the climax of the social life of the term, since it was held three days before graduation. The decorations were graduation caps and diplomas. During our Sophomore year our former principal, Mr. Nichols, resigned and Mr. Horton replaced him. Along with Mr. Horton came his daughter Esther, who joined our class shortly after his arrival. Betty Oles came to us this year. Under the guidance of our advisors, Mr. Bonner and Miss Henning, (now Mrs. Reeves) we rapidly began to prosper financially. For the first dance in our Junior year we had pilgrim silhouettes to carry out the Thanksgiving theme. On May 19, we held our second dance at which June Simmons was crowned Queen by Lynn Gillingham. The decorations were pink and white streamers, featuring a Queen's throne surrounded by imitation dogwood while overhead floated a fishnet full of balloons. One of our more successful projects to raise money was the sale of magazine subscriptions, in which we came out victorious over our opponents in the competition between the Junior and Senior classes. We were victorious over our opponents both years. On one bright November morning, a salesman for the Bastian Brothers Company, manufacturers of jewelry, came with a wide selection of rings. Since our class is very co-operative, it took us a very short time to decide upon a ring of simple design. After the Class of 1950 had obtained enough money for their trip, they turned the banquets over to our class. The first one was successful, as were the other ones that followed. The Kick-Off dance at which Ernie Russ' Orchestra played was the first dance of the season. It was a big event for the Seniors, as it was their dance. The theme was football and the color scheme was orange and brown. The main decorations were a goal post and an enormous football with the score of the football game with Franklin that afternoon. "January Thaw" was an exciting force, which depicted the trials and tribulations suffered by Herbert Gage and his family. Through a series of unpredictable events, the Gages found themselves owning and living in a restored colonial Connecticut farmhouse with famer Jonathon Rockwood and his family. The Rockwoods also are convinced that they own and should live in the same restored house. The talented cast was headed by Lynn Gillingham as Herbert Gage, and Jeannette Clark who plays the part of Marge Gage, his wife. John Short as Jonathan Rockwood, his wife Mathilda was played with much ability by the new member of the senior class, Alma Ottzen. Herman Carringer played the part of Uncle Walter. Other members of the class that were in the play were Esther Horton as Paula, Evelyn Hovey as Sarah, Shirley Krause as Barbara. The part of Matt Rockwood was capably played by Marshall Frasier, George Husted was played Claude Murwin. Richard O'Hara, as Mr. Loomis, played the part of the Gages lawyer while Bob Frasier was the constable. Shirley Sabedra played the part of the maid. After the play was over we held a party in the school gymnasium. It was attended by the majority of the Seniors. Mr. and Mrs. Bonner graciously opened their home to the Seniors, December 22, for a Christmas Party. We played games and refreshments were served afterwards. As the yearbook is going to press we are looking forward to our last dance February 23, at which the Woodhull Boys will play. After this comes the event that we have been looking forward to for many years, the Washington Trip and then graduation.
